Agathe de Baillencourt: Word and Wilderness

StudioKrimm opens its exhibition series Little Kriminals, an investigation into the art of text and typography, with Paris-born de Baillencourt. In 2008, she lit up the Berliner Dom during the city's Festival of Lights, but these works reveal a more intimate side of her work. The scrawls run together and break apart, sounding a wild exasperation with monotony. Seeing the forest, not just the trees, reveals a coincidental composition with a different meaning, like the chaos theory on canvas. Call ahead to see the show. JB
